

Business First of Louisville - February 12, 2009
/louisville/stories/2009/02/09/daily43.html

BUSINESS FIRST

Thursday, February 12, 2009

Prospect Latin School gets accreditation

Business First of Louisville

Prospect Latin School, a preschool located in the Oldham County community of Prospect, has received accreditation from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Council on Accreditation and School Improvement.

The school, which opened in early 2006, provides a curriculum similar to those followed in primary schools, plus it offers additional studies in Latin, computers, moral development, art appreciation and piano.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Council on Accreditation and School Improvement is a division of AdvancED, which also is the parent company of the North Central Association Commission on Accreditation and School Improvement.

The accreditation establishes a quality-control process for schools based on self-evaluation and peer review, AdvancED said on its Web site, www.advanc-ed.org.

All contents of this site © American City Business Journals Inc. All rights reserved.